SHABBAT SHALOM KOL YISRAEL!!!

(Please Read this message in it's entirety! As it contains some time-sensitive info)

We pray that everyone has had a Tov/Good Shabbat!

As the work week began this evening at sunset, We wanted to send out an update. We have received many inquiries in these past weeks about next years calendar. We have worked to get these finished, and was trying to get them up on the website last night, but didn't get the site updates completed. However, we have just finished the updates today, and the New Projected Calendar for 5994 s.c. (2012 - 2013) is now live and can be viewed and downloaded from the home page or the teaching publications page on our website www.YHRIM.com.

This year you will notice some updates to the calendars. Most is just small improvements to design and layout. One thing we did change was the "Key". We tried to update it to show and make it easier to understand how to read the calendar, especially for those who are just learning.

However, you will also notice that there is 2 versions of the calendar this year. One is using the GMT/Greenwich Mean Time/Universal Time calculations. The other is using EST/Eastern Standard Time USA calculations. When you begin to look at these two calendars, you will notice some differences, the most notable of which is how many days is in a month. For example on the GMT Projected Calendar, the first two months both have 30 days. On the EST Projected Calendar the first month has 30, but the 2nd month only has 29. Why is there this difference?

This is what we have been trying to explain to people, Yahuahs Calendar is specific to Where YOU Live. Before modern technology and communication, this difference would not be known or seen. But now today, because we can "see" the earth as a whole, we can see these differences.

Yahuahs Calendar is controlled by the Sun and Moon. But it also entails Where You Live on the face of the Earth.

For Example, Take a look at this Scenario: If you live in London England, you are in the GMT/Universal/Standard time zone. Lets say that the Moon goes into Conjunction at 9:00pm GMT, but sunset is at 4:20pm GMT. So if it is the 29th day of the month, and the sunsets at 4:20pm, but conjunction does not occur until 9:00pm, which is after sunset. A 30th day is created.

However, if you live here in the eastern U.S. like us here in Indiana, You are in EST/Eastern Standard Time, which is 5 Hours behind England's GMT. So when the Moon goes into conjunction at 9:00pm GMT, it is only 4:00pm EST.

BUT sunset here in Indiana is at 5:30pm. So for us who live here in Indiana/Eastern US, The conjunction would take place Before Sunset, and therefore we would only have 29 days that month, which means Rosh Chodesh would begin at sunset that evening.

So that is just one scenario/example of how location is a factor on a Projected Calendar. So everyone needs to take these projected calendars, and use the Moon conjunction times (which is listed at the bottom right corner of the calendar) and then adjust them for your timezone for each month! Then see if there are any changes you need to make to the projected calendar for it to fit your location.

Again, Everyone Must Remember, These Calendars Are Just Projections! These are not set in stone. These Projections are based upon man-made calculations, using projected moon conjunction times and sunset times! These Calendars are to be used as a help, and are a tool for teaching and learning. And using them for that purpose is Great, as it is teaching Yisrael how to understand Yahuahs Calendar! But these are based upon man made calculations which can be wrong! Or there can be mistakes...

I hope I brought this up earlier this year, but since it is getting near, I'll bring it up again. I made a mistake on some of the early editions of this years calendar. In the 11th month, the 25th - 26th day. The roman calendar references go from friday feb 25th, to sunday feb 26th! I somehow skipped saturday! So if you have a calendar that only has 29 days in the 11th month, you have one with a mistake. There should be 30 days in the the 11th month on this years current calendar 5993 s.c.

BUT again, these are just projected calendars. So Every month, You Must go out, Lift Up Your Head, and read the sun and moon, wherever you are on the face of this earth. As what the Sun and Moon speak forth everyday is Yahuahs Calendar!

Also once these man made tools pass away and are no more, you must at the time be able to know and understand how to read the sun and moon for All of Yahuahs Times, without these tools. That is why we have been stressing this for sometime now. So we hope that this helps everyone to understand this.

Now, the calendars are all available on the Website, you can Download them in a Saveable, Printable free PDF File. You can Also Order a Laminated Printed Hard Copy, which has the GMT Projected Calendar on one side, and the EST calendar on the other side. So when you order one calendar, you get both versions. This goes for the 8.5" x 11" standard size, and the 13" x 19" Display size. However on the 4" x 6" Pocket Size, it will only be printed on one side, so please specify if you want GMT or EST Projections.

We no longer have the Moon phase calendar, as it looks identical year to year, except if it has 29 days or 30 days each month, which is on the regular calendar anyway.

However, if you order a printed calendar this week, it will not be shipped until sometime next week after Rosh Chodesh. The reason for this is that I (Yahushua ben Moshe Eliyahu) will be out of state this week. Binyahmin and myself are leaving at 4am to begin a trip on our way out west to acquire some items that we need to prepare to leave when Yahuah directs us to do so. We will be gone for about a week. We'll discuss what we are doing to get prepared and will send out more details about this once we return.

Also I will not be able to answer emails during this time, so if you need to contact us you can email my Abba/Father Moshe Eliyahu, who is the overseer and teacher here at YHRIM. His email is moshe@yhrim.com

Please pass this along to your family, friends, and email lists.

I pray that everyone has a Tov and Blessed Week!

Shalom Shalom,

Yahushua ben Moshe Eliyahu
